BUILDINGS AND HEALTH. Mr. Truesdell Lays Down the Law

On the 10-Foot Limit. There was a spirited discussion before the board of Commissioners to-day over the amendment to the boilding regulations recently adopted requiring a ten-foot space to be left in the rear of buildings, for purposes of supplying light and air. It appears that J. H. Johnson applied in Japuary last to the building inspector for information touching the issuance of a permit for several dwellings at the corner of Eighteenth and 8 streets northwest. At the limit being but six feet. There was then nothing to prevent the building inspector from issuing a permit, but on June 17

the regulations were amended. Meanwhile arrangements were completed for the construction of the buildings, and Johnson obligated himself by n payable in five years, to pay the expense that would be incurred. Thy regulations forbade the issuance and the case was appealed to the Commissioners.

At the hearing this morning Mr. Samuel Maddox appeared for Mr. Johnson, and argued the injustice of enforcing an order against a man who by reason of a mistake the "revival of an obsolete rule" is placed in the position of being unable to sarry out a contract.

Commissioner Trucsdell suggested that so one should expect to act upon informa-Ion that had been obtained six months previously, and Mr. Maddex replied that he board ought not to enforce a regulation he adoption of which had not been duly

"Do you mean to say," said Mr. Madfox, "that no man shall build a corner louse anywhere in the city without leaving he ten-foot area prescribed?"

'Yes, sir," said Commissioner Trues-Jell; "that is exactly what we mean. There ave been many houses erected in this bity with a view more to the number of sollars that can be gotten out of them than to the health and comfort of the occupants."

The board finally authorized the issuance of a permit provided that the main wall of his buildings shall be set back ten feet from the building line, instead of eight and a half feet, as proposed, and scribed in the plans.

HELD AS A WITNESS.

neer Burnes Will Testify Against William P. Clark.

Judge Cole this morning committed Spen cer Barnes, a fifteen-year-old colored boy, o jail to appear as a government witness against William P. Clark, indicted last fall for forgery, and who succeeded in cluding arrest until a few days ago. When arrested Clark was working as a aborer on the White Lot sewer. Barnes is said to have been the tool of Clark in the commission of his alleged offenses. The checks Clark is accused of having forged on the Washington Loan and Trust Company last October and November, were sent by the boy, it is said, o the bank, and not until the checks were overdrawn, when the boy was arrested At his trial it developed that he was only used as an innocent tool, and he was dis-

BOOKMAKER'S SUICIDE.

One of the Best Known Bookies Kills Himself.

Amherstburg, Ont., Aug. 14.-The body of a man with a bullet hole in his temple was found at the mouth of the De troit River here last night. In his pock ets were a handkerchief marked A. P. Walker, a telegram from Milwaukee to Fred Walker, Cincinnati, and a letter dated Guelph, Ont., July 16, signed C. Walker, evidently from the deceased's mother. Foul play is suspected.

Later the body was identified as that of Alfred Frederick Walker, of Guelph, Ont., one of the best-known bookmakers in the country. He arrived in Detro last Friday from Cincinnati, and on Monday went to the Windsor races. After that nothing was seen or heard of him until his body was found in the river. His friends think it is a case of suicide, as he had been acting strangely for some

BUILT UPON OUICKSAND.

New York, Aug. 14 .- Superintendent Constable and his corps of building experts have not yet completed their investigation of the West Broadway disaster. The discovery of an old well in close proximity to the center pillars yesterday had a bad to the center pillars yesterday had a bad look and led many to believe that the cause of the collapse had been discovered, but this does not appear at all certain. Those who have supported the theory of quick-sand beneath the center foundation still hold to their opinion and are supported by William W. Goodrich, a Baltimore archi-William W. Goodrich, a Battimore architect, who states that derieg the winter of 1869-70 he was employed by A. T.
Stewart to bore the site for a proposed building on the ground where Ireland's wrecked building now stands.

Mr. Goodrich writes that he bored down thirty-five or forty feet and discovered quicksand and running water. When this was made known to Mr. Stewart he abandoned the idea of building on the is one of those who believe that it was the old well that caused the building to fall. It is believed that all of the bodies have recovered, and that no more bodies will be found in the ruins. There is not the slightest stench in the ruins to indicate hat there is another body buried.

The fire department served notice upor clear the streets in front of the building of the debris taken from the ruins. If he does not begin to do so to-day the fire department will have the work done and Mr. Ireland will have to stand the expennes. The residents of the neighborhood very badly.

British Opinions in Regard to the Malagasy Army.

London, Aug. 14 .- Col. Charles R. Sherrinton, formerly commander-in-chief of the Malagasy army, with the rank of Hentenant general, and for ten years past the military secretary of the Queen of Madagascar, has just returned to London, having resigned his post with the other British officers, owing to disagree ments with the government as to the meth-ods to be taken in resisting the advance of the French, In an interview to-day Col. shervinton said the French had be them the greatest physical obstacles they have yet encountered, including fever.

In the district of Vonizongo and in the high mountain passes near the capital, where the Hovas occupy powerful positions, the natives intend to make a stand. litherto, the colonel added, the Hovas have been purposely passive, although their artillery and machine guns outnum-ber those of the French, and with 50,000 drilled men, armed with breech-loading rilles, their position, in his opinion, ought to be impregnable.

The American and British residents of Antapasarivo presented Col. Shervinton with an address before his departure from that city, expressing regret at his eaving and paying a high tribute to his character.
